THE MENTOR DIRECTOR'S CHAIR

Donna Dietch

Donna segued from award-winning documentary filmmaker to her first feature Desert Hearts, the landmark hit of the 1986 Sundance, Telluride and Toronto International Film Festivals. Soon after she was tapped by Oprah Winfrey to direct the Emmy-nominated 4-hour mini-series The Women of Brewster Place, Donna was launched into a television directing career where four of five pilots she directed were picked up for series. She has directed numerous one-hour television dramas including episodes of NYPD Blue, Law and Order: SVU, Heroes, Crossing Jordan, and Bones, as well as films for HBO (Prison Stories, Women on the Inside) and Showtime including Devil's Arithmetic for which Donna won a Best Direction Emmy. She is currently writing a Desert Hearts sequel and developing Blonde Ghost her screenplay based on the most infamous 'catcher' in Berlin during WWII. Donna is also attached as Director to the extraordinary true crime memoir by Terri Jentz, Strange Piece of Paradise.

Donna Dietch

"We need to have a program like WIDC in Canada. It's a great opportunity for women directors to build career momentum and gain recognition for their talent."

- Lea Pool, 2007 Mentor Director

ALUMNAE UPDATES

WIDC 1997

Ines Buchli ~ with support from BC Film, Ines is developing a feature film Skin to Skin with Vancouver-based writer Marlene Rodgers.

Annie Frazier Henry ~ whose projects have served as springboards and inspiration for countless other productions, wrote, produced, and directed the 1st season of the breakout docu-drama series, Chiefs and Champions which recently wrapped its 2nd season for broadcast on APTN and other networks. Her current projects include; the feature film script, Footprints in Blood, inspired by true events; The Roger Adolph Story, a drama based on the life story of boxer Chief Roger Adolph; producing Shelley Niros' first feature film, Kissed By Lightning set for a spring 2008 shoot, and her interactive website messedup.ca is set for launch May 2007.

Megan Smith Harris ~ recently wrote and produced a one hour documentary on polygamy for the American Cable Channel WE (Women's Entertainment) which aired as the season premiere for the series, Secret Lives of Women in May 2007. Currently, Megan is writing a novel and developing future documentary projects.

Katie Tallo ~ After 15 years of producing her own work, Katie launched into the freelance world of writing and directing corporate videos and television with great success in 2006-07. She is shooting her first episode of OLN's Truth, Duty, Valour (Season III) in mid-May, is in negotiations to direct a docu-drama series this fall and has logged more hours this year as a director than any of her previous years in the business.

Pepita Ferrari ~ her one-hour performance piece Karen Young's Canticum Canticorum was broadcast on one of the last episodes of CBC's Opening Night. Shot on HDTV it received the Canadian Society of Cinematographer's 2006 Best Cinematography Award in the Performing Arts category and was nominated hors concours at the 2006 BWTVFI, as well as for Best Performing Arts at the 2006 FIPA and 2007 Golden Sheaf Awards. She is presently in development on a two-hour NFB production, The Art of Documentary.

Stephanie Morgenstern ~ and her writing partner Mark Ellis just got a green light from CTV for the production of Critical Incident's pilot episode. Produced by Anne Marie Latraverse (director TBA), Critical Incident tracks life behind the scenes on the Emergency Task Force (Toronto's SWAT team), and is slated to shoot early this summer.

Gerry Rogers ~ her award-winning documentary, Pleasant Street, was broadcast in the Atlantic region on CBC Television.

Veronica Tennant ~ has directed 8 productions since WIDC. She has been recognized by the Emmy's, Gemini's, Banff Rockie Awards, her film Shadow Pleasures setting the Yorkton Film Festival record in 2005 as the first ever production to garner 7 Golden Sheaf Awards, including Best of Festival and Best Direction! The Cinnamon Peeler from Shadow Pleasures which Veronica also choreographed, enjoyed a theatrical release across Canada in advance of Robert Altman's The Company. Shadow Pleasures also screened at the Dance on Camera Festival at Lincoln Center in New York, 2005. Her light-hearted A Pair of RED shorts - 2 Bravo!FACTs aired in 2006, and in 2006 she completed Celia Franca: Tour de Force, a one-hour portrait of the indomitable Founder of the National Ballet of Canada. In 2004, Veronica Tennant was awarded the prestigious Governor General's Performing Arts Award for Lifetime Achievement, and was the recipient of the Canada Council's Walter Carsen Prize for Excellence in the Performing Arts. As the first dancer to be appointed to the Order of Canada as Officer, 1975 Veronica was promoted in 2004, for the breadth of her contribution to the arts in Canada, to the rank of Companion, which is the country's highest honour.
